Ministère de la Culture et de la Communication

The department for Research, Higher education and technology (DREST) is a horizontal department, responsible for :

- the co-ordination of the activities of scientific and technical research of the departments, services and institutions of the ministry of Culture (archaeology and arts, books, architecture, music, socio-economy of culture...),
- the national digitisation plan for cultural heritage,

Ministère de la Culture et de la Communication

- the management of the interdepartmental programs at national level and the representation of the ministry of culture in national authorities and at European level (MSEG, European projects such as Michael, Minerva, Europeana).
- the distribution of the results of these activities to the attention of the principal stakeholders and participants of the culture and research domains.
